

WYOMING
SYMPHONY
ORCHESTRA

EXPERIENCE THE ARTS AND SCIENCES WITH YOUR FAMILY

On March 17th, if you attend the Science Zone's Open House your family can attend the WSO dress rehearsal for free and vice versa!

Wyoming Symphony Orchestra Dress Rehearsal Noon - 2 pm, John F. Welsh Auditorium

Experience the Wyoming Symphony Orchestra perform the Main Theme from Star Wars and then explore space listening to the music of Gustav Holst's The Planets. This is a great way to introduce your family to symphonic music in a more casual setting and link it to the science of Space, the Final Frontier.

Nano Days: Science Zone Open House 10 am - 5 pm, 111 W. Midwest Avenue

NanoDays celebrates the tiniest science that is making the biggest impact on our lives. Explore the invisible things that change the way we communicate, eat, and explore the universe. Dissect electronics on a nano scavenger hunt, build the world's flattest circuit, extract DNA, and imagine a future full of nanotechnology.

NanoDays™

The Biggest Event for the Smallest Science!

